Lieut. Gov. T. G. Bilbo, of Mississippi, has been acquitted of a bribery charge.

The administration's program on the anti trust bills will be laid before the Senate Monday.

Lee C. Houser, aged 55, standing on the river bank near Gallatin, was killed by lightning, his body falling into the water.

Paul Warburg will not withdraw as a nominee for a place on the reserve board, but President Wilson will insist upon his confirmation.

George Bingham, editor of the Hogwallow Kentuckian, has made a contract with Judge to furnish a page each week of funny matter.

The Senate passed the Sundry Civil Bill after refusing to amend or eliminate the labor exemption clauses. The measure carries $111,000,000.

The reprimand which President Wilson ordered for Brig. Gen. Robert K. Evans will take the form of a letter from Secretary Garrison.

Some people are hoping that the Interstate Commerce Commission will not give out that list of railroad passes until after the August primary.

A female cat fancier of New York, has sued Thos. A. Edison for $5,000 damages because the pictures of her and one of her cats in Mr. Edison's picture show were unsatisfactory.

President Wilson conferred Thursday with Ford, the automobile manufacturer. Mr. Ford told him there was nothing wrong with business and he saw no evidences of any sort of depression.

One of the titled women of England is the Duchess of Abercorn. Would it be going too far to call the woman who took the place of a striking bartender in Massachusetts, the Countess of Barleycorn?

Gen. Eufemio Zapata passed through Los Angeles on the way to offer to Gen. Carranza the support of the Zapatistas in return for a guarantee that all the haciendas now in the hands of the Zapatistas will be distributed solely among them.

At Long Branch half-a-dozen young and pretty women bathers introduced the new style of wearing socks instead of stockings reaching above the knees. They were low and held in place by rubber garters and were closely observed by rubber-necks.

Villa has voted against a conference with the Huerta representatives. All hope for a joint conference is abandoned. The United States has accomplished nothing by invasion of Mexico so far. One course yet remains—to send an army to Mexico City to remain until peace is restored.

The Next Congressman.

The candidates for Congress will begin a series of joint debates in this county next Monday, at Crofton in the afternoon and will meet here Monday night. The appointments were made by Judge Henson and a division of time accepted by Mr. Kincheloe. They have held joint discussions in other counties and there will be no unseemly wrangling, though there will be no lack of interest in the speeches. Judge Henson comes into the county a comparative stranger, with a reputation more as a judge than as an orator. On the other hand, Mr. Kincheloe is well and widely known as an accomplished orator, who has frequently delivered addresses of one kind and another in the county. He undoubtedly has a distinct advantage as the campaign opens, though the outcome in Christian county will largely depend upon the speeches to be made next week. Judge Henson is a nephew of Mr. M. V. Owen, of Church Hill. Mr. Kincheloe has no relatives in the county, but his friends are numerous.

T. L. METCALFE SELLS LAUNDRY

Business Incorporated With Will M. Terry General Manager.

BUSINESS TOO BIG FOR ONE.

Owner Will Now Give All of His Time to Florist Plants.

The laundry business of Thos. L. Metcalfe has been transferred to a corporation, in which Mr. Metcalfe retains an interest, but the active management will pass into other hands.

The trade was made some days ago, but not formally announced until Thursday. The Metcalfe Steam Laundry Co., will be the new designation of the plant and Will M. Terry, who has been Mr. Metcalfe's assistant for fifteen years, will be the Manager.

THOS. L. METCALFE.

Mr. Metcalfe established the business 29 years ago and under his energetic direction it has grown too big for one man, even a hustler like he is, to handle. The greenhouse business run in connection with the laundry has developed so rapidly that it requires all of Mr. Metcalfe's time and this is the reason given for the change in the laundry. His greenhouses here and in Madisonville, Clarksville, Jackson and Union City will be still further developed, now that Mr. Metcalfe has more time to devote to them. It is also understood that Mr. Metcalfe will invest in an addition to the Avalon the capital withdrawn from the laundry plant by the partial sale, thus insuring another handsome building on Liberty street, opposite the Carnegie Library.

SENSATIONAL SUIT FILED

Mrs. Gaylord Sues Her Daughter For Sending Her To An Asylum.

Louisville, Ky., July 10.—Alleging false detention and confinement in an institution for the insane, by "unlawful, wrongful, wicked, malicious and cunning acts," Alice B. Gaylord has filed suit against her daughter, Elsie G. Latham, to recover $20,000.

It is alleged in the petition that while the plaintiff was a guest of her daughter in the month of May, 1913, she was drugged with various medicines and liquors, and that while she was in a drugged and semi-conscious condition the defendant caused her to be removed to the institution. It is further charged that while she was so confined she was not permitted to communicate with her son or legal adviser, and that it became necessary for her son to use the police department to locate her.

Freeport, N. Y., July 10.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, was arrested Wednesday, accused of being the assassin who, a week ago last night, murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of a Hempstead manufacturer, by firing a bullet through her heart as she stood in the physician's office.

Tonight Mrs. Carman, at whom the finger of suspicion has pointed since the discovery that she had installed a telephonic instrument in her husband's office to hear conversation between him and his women patients, is in the Nassau county jail at Mineola. There she will remain until Monday, when she again will be examined by the coroner, before whom she pleaded not guilty when arraigned after her arrest in the room where Mrs. Bailey died. THOUSANDS OF PASSES

Issued By Railroads to Public Officials High And Low.

LIST NOT MADE PUBLIC.

Interstate Commerce Commission Files Partial Report To Senate.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The Louisville & Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroads, operating principally in Tennessee and Kentucky, gave away free transportation to the amount of 11,711,872 miles during the year 1913, according to a report submitted to the senate by the interstate commerce commission. A vast majority of this free transportation was furnished to members of legislative bodies, including United States senators, congressmen and state legislators.

Other state and federal officers, however, including judges of state and federal courts, sheriffs, city and county officials, received a wholesome share of the free transportation. This evidence marks the first disclosure under the Lea resolution.

Lists of pass holders in the various classes have been compiled by the commissions, but have not been made public.

This investigation has been so fruitful of results that a general investigation of the free pass evil has been instituted by the interstate commerce commission.

The report has created a profound sensation in Washington. More than 34,000 passes, valued at more than $340,000, were shown to have been issued last year to individuals, ranging from a United States senator, whose pass showed no mileage traveled, to county sheriffs and local politicians.

The commission sharply criticised the "lack of morality revealed by these facts" as a menace to the institutions of a free people, and announced its intention to issue an order dealing with the situation.

Automobilist Lost Control of His Car and Smash-Up Followed.

Princeton, Ky., July 10.—M. T. Guess, a well-known traveling salesman, while motoring here met with an accident in which he and Virgil Shaw, who was with him, had a narrow escape from injury. In changing the rate of speed in passing a wagon on the street here, Mr. Guess lost control of his machine, and dashing across the concrete pavement, crashed into the tinshop of H. T. Maret, knocking a hole in the side of the building and slightly damaging his automobile.

The deceased was a native of Edmondson county, but had made his home in this city since 1861. He was a blacksmith by trade and was a clever man, who leaves a host of friends.

The interment will take place in Riverside Cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock.

DIED OF INJURIES

Gran Terrill, Colored Farm Hand, Attacks Farmer and Loses Life.

HELD JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

Robt. L. Nichols, Prominent Farmer of Oak Grove Vicinity, Resists Attack.

Gran Terrill, aged 35, a negro farm hand on the farm of Robt. L. Nichols, at Oak Grove, died Thursday evening from a blow on his head, inflicted with a gun barrel by Mr. Nichols. Terrill spent the fourth of July in this city and went home under the influence of liquor. He secured his gun, a double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot, and frightened his wife so that she ran from her own cabin to Mr. Nichols' house for safety. Terrill then went to the stable taking the gun with him and set it down in the crib. Mr. Nichols coming in from the farm heard of the disorder and went to the stable to quiet Terrill. He found him in one of the stalls and Mr. Nichols picked up the gun. The negro became very angry and started to advance upon Mr. Nichols in a threatening manner. Mr. Nichols ordered him to stop, telling him he didn't want to hurt him. The negro stopped and Mr. Nichols started to the house with the gun and looking back saw Terrill again advancing. As he turned round Terrill came upon him using violent language. When he came up close enough, Mr. Nichols hit him with the gun-barrel. He had no intention of killing him, he states, as he held the loaded gun in his hands. The blow fractured his skull and Mr. Nichols at once summoned a surgeon and had an operation performed at an expense to him of $85, but the operation failed to save Terrill's life and he expired as above stated.

Esq. W. W. Garrett held an inquest yesterday morning and returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Three colored hands testified that Terrill told them that it was a good thing he was knocked down, or he would have cut Mr. Nichols to pieces with his knife. Terrill stated before he died that he didn't blame Mr. Nichols, as he brought the trouble on himself.

Mr. Nichols came to town yesterday with some of his neighbors who made bond for him.

Mr. Nichols is 60 years old and a quiet, peaceful farmer and a good citizen. His action in the premises seems to have been unavoidable.

Are Battleships Obsolete.

The Hague, July 8.—The contention of Admiral Sir Percy Scott that battleships have been made obsolete by submarines and aeroplanes has been seized here by the strong anti-dreadnaught party and given wide publicity, with the result that the Government's battleship programme is now likely to fail. The enormous cost of the modern battleship has already aroused the opposition of the heavy taxpayers. But arguments against the utility of the floating fort, which, he says, stands no chance against overhead and submarine attacks; the opposition has gained the support of many of the extreme patriots.

PLANTERS HARDWARE CO. INCORPORATED

BATCH OF PAROLES

Four of Them Sent Up From This County.

A big batch of prison paroles, for convicts who have served minimum sentences, were approved by Gov. McCreary Thursday. In the list are the following from Christian county:

Carrie M. Pendleton, col. committed Sept. 1910 to serve 1 to 5 years for malicious shooting.

Will Myer, committed June 1912, to serve 2 to 10 years for mule stealing.

Gas Robb col., committed April 1912 to serve 2 to 10 years for robbery.

Arthur Smith, col., committed June 1912 to serve 2 to 21 years for manslaughter.

River Water and Typhoid.

Since Evansville is said to be the offending party, along with Owensboro and other river cities, in polluting the Ohio river with sewerage, which is probably responsible for much typhoid in Henderson, it is not more than fair that Superintendent Durbin of the local water works plant should place his services at the disposal of the Henderson authorities in advising them how to get an untainted city water supply. That this end of the Ohio valley has an expert of his ability and undisputed good judgment is a matter for congratulations on all sides. Probably no one has a better idea of how to remedy Henderson's plight than the Evansville expert.

Until Evansville secured a filter plant it had to drink its water raw and take chances on contamination by sewage from cities upstream. The water was and is still contaminated above Evansville. Tests of raw water taken from the river here show the presence of intestinal bacteria. Evansville sewage is not wholly to blame for the germs of the river. Our sewage just adds to the volume of that already there and heightens the chances of getting bad water at Henderson.

It would seem the part of wisdom for Henderson to lose no time in building a filtration plant. Until that city does purify its water supply it may expect to fight typhoid and lose lives in the battle. The municipality certainly can afford to spend $125,000 for a filtration plant. Evansville paid for its filter out of water works earnings and by tax levies. Henderson can do as much or else issue bonds. For the present, a temporary filter plant could be put in to end the contamination of the river water for this summer. The time and situation seem to call for prompt and vigorous action by the Henderson city administration. —Evansville Courier.

Three Champion Spellers.

Warsaw, Ind., July 9.—Indiana's champion spellers are Miss Sallie J. Wernitz, of Evansville; Mrs. C. A. Brown, of Winona Lake and Miss Kathryn Sarber. These ladies were still standing in a spelling contest here today after three hours of giving out different words by Dr. Jonathan Rigdon, president of Winona college. Dr. Rigdon confessed that he had exhausted his stock of words and the audience began with a number of hard spelling words but were unsuccessful in causing any of the three ladies to step down. It was finally decided to divide the prizes. The match began with fifty contestants.

INJURY FROM WEEVIL

INSECT DOING MUCH DAMAGE IN WESTERN STATES.

Brush Drag Is Effective in Knocking Larvae Feeding on Stubble to Ground Where Many Are Mangled or Suffocated.

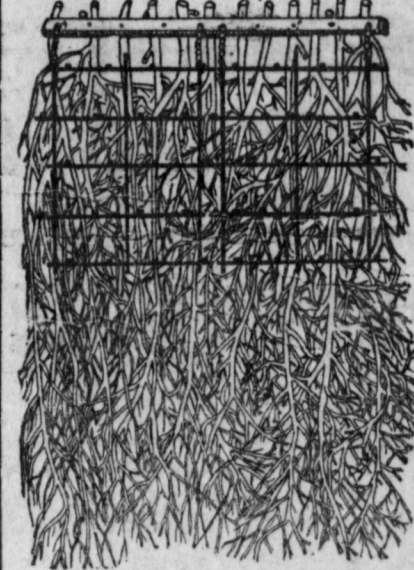

(By E. G. TITUS.)

The alfalfa leaf-weevil, which has during the last few years been doing considerable damage in parts of our western states, is a European insect which by some means unknown has been introduced into this country.

The species appears to be not uncommon throughout Europe and parts of Asia and Africa. It belongs to the large order of hard-shelled insects called beetles, and in a group generally called snout-beetles. To this same group belong many of our most serious pests, such as the plum curculio, cotton boll weevil and strawberry weevil. It occurs all over Europe, a portion of northern Africa and eastern Asia. It probably occurs throughout all of the regions in which alfalfa is cultivated in the eastern hemisphere, but rarely causes damage sufficient to be reported.

This weevil belongs to a family of insects which feed principally upon leguminous plants and several species in the genus have been introduced into the United States and Canada. Two of these, the clover leaf-weevil, and the lesser clover leaf-weevil, have done considerable damage to the clover crop in the eastern and central states, and the former has been reported as injuring clover in the extreme northwest. They also feed on alfalfa and other related plants.

Many methods of ridding the fields of these pests have been tried—burning, sweeping and dragging—with varying results. Many patterns of the brush drag are in use, but the one which seems to be giving the best results is made by laying the butts of rather short brush, five or six feet long, in a row on a plank twelve or fourteen feet long, then another row should be laid on the first, consisting of longer brush, with the butts trimmed a little further back, so that you will have in effect two brush harrows, one following the other. Another plank should be laid on the brush butts and bolted to the under plank. In weighting this harrow, lay an ordinary tooth harrow, teeth down, directly on the brush drag. This makes a very even weight, at the same time it is so flexible that the drag will work its way down into the small depressions as well as over the elevations of the field.

The brush drag is effective in knocking the larvae feeding on the stubble to the ground where it mangles many of them and suffocates others by the dust stirred up. If the drag is built right, there will be parts of the brush tearing through every crown of alfalfa in the field and stirring up the soil sufficiently to cause a dense fine dust in which many of the younger larvae are suffocated and which the older ones find it very hard to crawl through to reach the plants, many of them perishing in the heat of the sun.

GIVE LAMBS THE BEST FEED

Care Should Be Exercised That Nothing Is Left After Hunger of Animal Is Satisfied.

In feeding the lambs great care should be taken that no feed is left after their hunger is satisfied. There is another point in the feeding of lambs which cannot be too strongly emphasized, namely, that the food should be of the best quality. Ensilage that is the slightest degree moldy should never be offered them.

Of all farm animals lambs are the most fastidious about their feed, and success in feeding depends largely upon the manner in which their food is given them.

All successful feeders are well aware that strict regularity in the hours of feeding is as essential in the feeding of lambs as it is in the management of any other kind of live stock.

Restoring Fertility.

Fertility may be restored to worn-out land by saving all animal manures and putting them onto the land; by making use of all crop residues, that is, putting back into the soil everything not used for feed; by turning under green manures and catch crops.

Popular Mechanics Magazine For July.

Not departing from its custom of describing everything new in the fields of mechanics and science, the July Popular Mechanics Magazine is, perforce, a "marine number." The past month has been especially prolific in developments which may be so classed. Mammoth vessels have been launched; submarine motion pictures were successfully taken; yachts, pleasure craft of all kinds, hydroplanes, and flying boats, of improved types, were built; an important canal neared completion; a huge ocean liner on its maiden voyage had difficulty in docking at New York, and then—just as the last pages of the magazine were going to press—one of the greatest disasters in marine history occurred. All these matters are discussed in the July magazine. The cover design is a handsome cross-sectional view of the recently launched, White Star liner "Britannic," and an article entitled "The Great New Skyscrapers of the Sea" points the trend of ship construction toward the 1,000-ft. liner, declaring that, "It is as certain as anything still in the future can be that the day of the 1,000-ft. ship is close at hand." Nothing in the magazine is more remarkable than the three pages of views showing pictures made under water at depths of from 25 to 35 ft. H. H. Windsor, in an editorial "Submarine Cameras," suggests that "Children of those who went down in the 'Titanic' may live to look upon an actual picture of that great steamship resting on the ocean's floor." The pictures show tropical fishes; Bahama yachts, pleasure craft of all kinds, a wreck of a civil-war blockade runner sunk 50 years ago. Although the "Empress of Ireland" sank so recently, several views in the July number show how the accident occurred.

The July Popular Mechanics Magazine contains, all told, 335 articles and 356 illustrations.

Birds Are Long Lived

(Answers.)

The question of which birds live the longest has never been settled satisfactorily. But the raven comes very high in the list, and is said to reach the great age of 200 years.

Eagles and vultures also enjoy long lives. Indeed, an eagle owl is known to have lived ninety years in captivity. In this particular case the bird began to lay eggs after fifty years, and during the last forty years of its life brought up numerous little ones.

One hundred years is probably a conservative estimate of a parrot's age, and it is recorded that one of these birds also started nesting after thirty years of captivity. With ordinary luck, both the crow and the swan may reasonably expect a century of life.

It is not by any means the larger birds that enjoy the longest lives. For instance, the sparrow sometimes celebrates his fortieth birthday. Other ages reached by birds are: Hens, ten years; pheasants and partridges, fifteen years; larks and nightingales, eighteen years; pigeons, twenty years; canaries, twenty-four years; peacocks, thirty years, and herons, sixty years.

Alger Adams, accused of detaining a woman against her will, waived examining trial and executed bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the fall term of circuit court.

NEGROES PROSPEROUS

Alabama Negroes Own or Control 5,100,000 Acres of Land.

Negro farmers own or control 5,100,000 acres of land in the State of Alabama alone, or 350,000 more acres than they controlled in 1900. The colored farmers of that State have under their control 3,563,000 acres of unimproved land, and at present they are farming 500,000 more of improved land than they were cultivating in 1900. In ten years the number of negro farmers increased 173 per cent, and now they own or control one-fourth of all the farm property in Alabama, having an aggregate value of 97,870,000 or 106.5 per cent more farm property than they controlled at the beginning of the ten-year period.

Biggest Rubber Tree of All.

What is believed to be the largest rubber tree in the world stands in the Brazilian territory of Acre, on the frontier of Bolivia. Its stem is 27 feet 2 7/10 inches in circumference at the base. For 120 days every year this colossus gives 22 pounds of rubber a day. At present prices this brings in $2,160 a year, or a fair interest on about $50,000, to its owners, a family of seven Seringueiros.

PRAYERS ANSWERED

And Hopkinsville Gets a Nice Little Shower.

The longed for rain came at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. It was not much, but every little helps in times of drouth. It extended only one mile west of town and covered only a small area around Hopkinsville. The shower fell for ten minutes and the ground was wet about one inch deep in loose soil. The rain, which fell upon Hopkinsville only, is accepted as an answer to the prayer service held Tuesday morning from 6 to 7 o'clock. At any rate the shower came within sixty hours after the christian people asked Divine relief from the drouth.

Another still better rain fell yesterday at 1:30. The first shower in town lasted 15 minutes and was heavier to the west and north. There was a thunder storm and more rain later in the afternoon.

Other Rains.

Heath, in McCracken county, had a local shower Wednesday afternoon, the first in seven weeks.

A fairly good rain fell in portions of Graves county Wednesday.

Lightning at Pembroke.

During the storm at Pembroke yesterday afternoon the barn of J. W. Cross was struck by lightning and destroyed with its contents. The same bolt severely shocked Mrs. Lucy Wood, Mrs. Russell Roan and Bryan Jones, but their injuries were not serious. A good rain fell.

Meat Kept Eighteen Years.

London, July 9.—A quarter of beef kept for eighteen years in cold storage was exposed to the public view for an hour and a half at the Smithfield markets recently. No test was made of its eating qualities, but the meat appeared perfectly sound, although slightly faded. It was put back into storage to remain an object of curiosity, the owners hoping it may be allowed to complete a century at least. The quarter was shipped from Brisbane, Australia, in February, 1896, to a firm of military contractors at Malta, who used it for experimental purposes. When the government recently took over the storage at Malta the firm shipped the piece to London. The system of refrigeration employed during this period was brine circulation produced by an ammonia compression machine.

Desperate Son-in-law.

Atlanta, Ga., July 9.—Three victims of murder and suicide were found in a wooded and unfrequented locality near here today. The dead were S. F. Bennett, a carpenter about thirty years old, Mrs. Flossie Bennett, his seventeen-year-old wife, and Mrs. Mattie Tolbert, forty-nine years old, the dead man's mother-in-law.

Notes found in Bennett's clothing and investigation by the police and coroner indicated that he had forced his wife to drink poison and then strangled and clubbed her to death, then lured the dead girl's mother to the scene and killed her with a shotgun after showing her the body of her daughter, and finally shot and killed himself.

Dolly Madison.

Mrs. Dolly Madison, the wife of the third president, is described by Griswold in this way:

"Dolly Payne, born in North Carolina, had been educated according to the strictest rules of the Quakers in Philadelphia, where at an early age she married a young lawyer of this sect named Todd; but, becoming a widow, she threw off drab silks and plain laces and for several years was one of the gayest and most fascinating women of the city. She had many lovers, but she gave the preference to Mr. Madison and became his wife in 1794."

Protect The Buzzards.

John W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture, is quoted as saying that war is to be made on the buzzard. That bird is said to be a carrier of cholera. Kentucky's losses due to hog cholera last year, according to the Commissioner of Agriculture, amounted to $1,700,000. Just how he figures it out that a buzzard can devour a diseased hog's carcass and infect live hogs without injury to itself is a state secret. The buzzard is nature's scavenger. Let him alone.

Lightning Strikes

Pic-Nic Crowd.

Sallisaw, Okla., July 5.—Three people were killed, forty injured and many of them seriously, when lightning struck the meshwork of electric wire above a pic-nic crowd Friday afternoon.

Thousands had gathered to hear Senator Gore deliver a campaign address. The senator was speaking when the storm burst and the crowd sought shelter under trees.

Careless Shooting.

J. N. Pulliam shot at a noise in his back premises at Somerville, Tenn., Tuesday and killed his neighbor, Jas. P. Rhea, who was in his own back yard across the fence. Rhea's body was found an hour later. Rhea had been hit in the head.

Rosy as A Girl.

Summit, N. C.—In a letter received from this place, Mr. J. W. Church, the notary public, says, "My wife had been ailing for nearly 12 years, from female ailments, and at times, was unable to leave the house. She suffered agony with her side and back. We tried physicians for years, without relief. After these treatments all failed, she took Cardui, and gained in weight at once. Now she is red and rosy as a girl." Cardui, as a tonic for women, has brought remarkable results. It relieves pain and misery and is the ideal tonic for old and young. Try it. At all druggists. Advertisement.

Balboa Exposition.

Parama, July 8—All the thirty-five acres of ground which have been set aside for the Panama National Exposition to commemorate next fall the four hundredth anniversary of Balboa's discovery of the Pacific, have been cleared and graded, and the cornerstones of numerous buildings have been laid. The Cuban building is the first of the foreign structures to be started. The exposition is to open in November.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with "the right sentiment, and 'Walnuts and Wine,' the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

Kissing and Rice Barred.

Father James M. Scanlan of Our Lady of Lourdes church, Chicago, has decreed against kissing the bride and throwing rice or flowers at wedding in his church. Father Scanlan also places the ban on flowers at funerals, saying they are not sent to the dead, as pretended, but to the living.

Dove Season Opens August 1

Hunting license sales in June and the early days of July have picked up, according to reports reaching the office of the Game and Fish Commission, and sportsmen are beginning to discuss the location of doves; the hunting of which will be legal August 1. Tilford of Morgantown, Butler county, committed suicide by taking a fatal dose of carbolic acid. Her body was found on the bed in her room. She was married to Tilford three months ago. Until last fall she was a telephone operator in this city. She was seventeen years.

Shut Off His Wind.
In a desperate fight in the dark with a robber who had invaded their home, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grim-wood, an aged couple, killed the intruder at Yorkville, Ill. The robber, who was about 20 years old, after being hit with a club died as Mrs.
Grimwood was throttling him until her husband could get a rope to tie him.

Killed His Wife.
Thomas Brammer, a tollgate keeper on the pike leading from Burnside to Monticello, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife.
It is his contention that his wife was waking about the room soon after retiring for the night, and he, thinking she was a burglar, fired.

Hasn't Heart it yet.
George Fred Williams, American Minister to Greece, whose statements regarding conditions in Albania are said to have impeded President Wil-that he knew nothing of the report that the President had asked him to resign.

Lightning Kills Three.
Bismarck, Ark., July 3—Salvatore Anthony, 40; Jas. Saunders, 14 and losis a committee of Boyle county citizens has employed a district nurse. Greenup county is preparing to take similar action.

isfactory conditions in New Orleans relative to the plague fight. Six thousand rat traps are doing considerable execution.

vinces are free of opium, according

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Penny-royal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 33.

Young Liveryman Who Is a Typical Hopkinsville Hustler.

"To be a leader in your line of business should be the ambition of every man who engages in business. In seeking the leaders in the livery business of Hopkinsville, Percy Smithson would be accorded that distinction by common consent. Born on a farm, he early learned to care for and manage horses and he was but following a natural bent when he drifted into the business at which he has so well succeeded.

He is a native of Christian county, born in 1882. He came to Hopkinsville in 1900 hunting work. He secured employment in the carriage factory of West & Lee, where he worked hard for five years and saved his earnings for an opportunity that came in 1906, when he entered the livery business. He was widely acquainted and being of a genial, companionable nature he made friends fast and a few years ago moved to his present stand on Virginia street, where his business has grown so rapidly that he has found it necessary to specialize and the stable he now operates is for livery and board. He formerly operated licensed hacks, but has quit this branch of business. He gives his personal attention to his horses and those of his boarding customers and has made a reputation for watching the details of his business. His teams are good ones and the service is courteous, prompt and satisfactory. He deserves to succeed and is meeting with success except in affairs of the heart. He is still single.

PERCY SMITHSON.

Eat Before Working.

However practicable it may be for the stalwart farmer to rear himself out of bed in the cold, gray dawn—or even before—and do half a day's work before he comes back to the farmhouse for breakfast, experiment seems to show pretty conclusively that it is almost useless to attempt to do any work that calls for the exercise of the reasoning processes of the mind before the morning sacrifice to the stomach. Particularly is this the case with children and yet how often do we see the little ones urged to get up and study in the morning before breakfast, or at least permitted to lay aside some of the home work in the evening on the plea that they can "do it in the morning." Some may be able to do it; but it is safe to say that 99 per cent cannot, nor is it right to ask them to try.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Annie Smithson Becomes Bride of Mr. J. M. Harris.

A lovely home wedding occurred on Wednesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mr. D. F. Smithson, at the corner of Walnut and Seventeenth streets. It was that of his daughter, Miss Annie K. Smithson, to Mr. John Morgan Harris, of Pembroke.

The home was decorated for the occasion with lighted candles, lighted miniature electric lamps and greenery. A profusion of elegant and costly presents filled tables and much floor space. Guests were numerous, being from both the city and the county at large. Each had registered in a beautiful guest book as they arrived.

Promptly at 4:30 o'clock Mrs. L. E. Foster began to play the wedding march. The attendants moved to their places before an altar arranged of leaves and candles. These were Rebecca Smithson, the tiny sister of the bride, Dorothy Carter, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Carter, and Helen Jenkins, the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins, of Houston, Tex. The last bore on a cushion covered with white satin the wedding ring. The other two were flower girls. After these dainty misses came the bride and the bridegroom. The bride was gown in white crepe voile and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Rev. H. D. Smith spoke the ritual.

The service concluded, the newly married pair received for a few minutes the good wishes and congratulations of their friends, who were present and then were conveyed by auto to their home at Pembroke.

Mr. Harris is a merchant and farmer of his neighborhood, a man of means and excellent standing there. Miss Smithson is a young woman of culture and character. She has been very useful, both in the church and in the community at large. She is noted for her services to the poor and to children. Her going from this city is a distinct loss to it.

KENTUCKIAN HONORED

T. J. Smith Heads Supervisors of State Banks.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—Federal legislation to be substituted for the "blue sky" laws of the various States, the elimination of private banks and the discouragement of the practice of issuing overdrafts were expressed in resolutions adopted by the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at the closing session of their convention here. They also decided to co-operate with the Federal Reserve Board under the new currency act.

T. J. Smith, Banking Commissioner of Kentucky, was elected president, and Harry M. Smith, of Maine, secretary-treasurer.

FOUR TEAMS IN LEAGUE

Clarksville Forfeits and Hopkins Has Dropped Out.

LAST GAME YESTERDAY.

Local Players Paid Off and Moguls Gracefully Retire.

Clubs.	W.	L.	Pct
Cairo	40	26	666
Owensboro	38	26	594
Paducah	37	29	561
Henderson	33	30	524
Clarksville	23	37	383
Hopkinsville	20	45	308

The Hopkinsville Baseball team has quit business, its accounts being paid up and its books closed in good order. Clarksville surrendered its franchise Tuesday and it being necessary to have an even number of teams, Hopkinsville agreed to quit rather than continue on a losing basis.

The Kitty League will try to finish the season of six weeks with the four remaining clubs, but this is uncertain. Attendance is poor everywhere this season. Even the big leagues are feeling the dull times. Hopkinsville is out of the game, but the complete failure of the surviving half of what was at one time an eight club League would be regretted here.

The Hopkinsville and Clarksville players at once began to hustle for other berths.

The last game of the season, so far as Hopkinsville is concerned, was played Thursday and the Moguls quit with the same bad taste in the mouths of the fans. It was another defeat by 11 to 0. There was no interest in the game and the crowd was very small.

Smith, second baseman of Owensboro, questioned a decision made by Dr. Frank Bassett, who umpired Wednesday's game, and blows were passed. One thing "Doc" will not stand for is to have his decisions questioned. Nobody in Kentucky knows the game better and he plays no favorites. The rumpus came up after the game and was quickly stopped.

Thursday's Results.

Owensboro 11, Hopkinsville 0.
Clarksville 5, Paducah 4.
Henderson 3, Cairo 0.

Wednesday's Results.

Hopkinsville 7, Owensboro 6.
Paducah 4, Clarksville 3.
Cairo 6, Henderson 2.

Minister Was Puzzled.

At a marriage service performed some time ago in a little country church in Georgia, when the minister said in a solemn tone: "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" instead of the woman answering for herself, a gruff man's voice answered: "I will." The minister looked up very much perplexed and paused. He repeated the sentence, and again the same gruff voice answered, "I will." Again the minister looked up surprised, not knowing what to make of it, when one of the groomsmen at the end of the row said: "She is deaf. I am answering for her."—Lippincott's Magazine.

PUMP WATER

Pure gurgling, rippling water, fresh from deep ice cold wells, but you will need a Pump with which to do this.

After many years of experience in the Pump business, we have come to the conclusion that the "Red Jacket" So Easy to Fix and the Myers Deep and Shallow Well Pump, will cover any and all conditions that may arise in connection with elevating water, either by hand, Wind Mill or Gasoline Engine. This is due to the Mechanism of the Cylinder which is the heart of a Pump. Without "efficiency" in the Cylinder a Pump is worthless. That is where and how the Red Jacket and the Myers have established their reputation.

If you contemplate installing a system of Water Works, before doing so, we invite you to examine these pumps. It will be worth your while, besides save you Time and Money.

Obituary.

Edwin W. Steger had many noble traits of character. He was a man without guile or deceit. He was open, frank, generous, pure in heart. He never bore malice toward any one, never spoke evil of any. He was quiet and unassuming and modest as a woman. One of his strong points was fidelity to a trust. He was as true as steel. Every obligation, whether to his church, his home, or business, was performed faithfully and conscientiously. He was a loyal exponent of the lofty principles enunciated by the lowly Nazarene. In fact, he was a devoted follower of Him who spake as man never spake. How beautiful it is for man to die on the walls of Zion, to be called like a watchman and weary sentinel, to put his armor off, and rest in Heaven! A FRIEND.
